A showing of antique and modern American Indian art returns to Marin for a 32nd year, displaying works produced by nationally known artists and antiques collected by the nation's top art dealers. With an emphasis on precolonial artifacts, including textiles, baskets, pottery and beadwork, as well as sculpture and paintings, the show benefits MarinLink, a local nonprofit that serves as an incubator for various social projects. The art show runs through Feb. 21 and opens with a preview night on Friday, Feb. 19, at Marin Center Exhibit Hall, 10 Avenue of the Flags, San Rafael. 5pm. $10–$15. 415.499.6800.
